Only plant protection products registered in the Register of Plant Protection Products are authorised in Latvia. When a plant protection product is registered, conditions of use are established, i.e. crop, harmful organisms, dose and time of use, seasonal number of trimmings and waiting time until harvest.

In submitting the application and the necessary information, the owner of the registration certificate for a plant protection product may apply for amendments to the documentation of the registered plant protection product and/or conditions of use.
